I was working in chicken coop installing new circulation fans when I heard chicken distress sounds. The coop door was open, I looked out and saw the two dogs chasing the chicken north across our lawn. The dogs were biting at the chicken. I ran out of the coop and yelled at the dogs to "Get out of here!" The bigger dog fled. The little dog hung around for a few seconds. By the time I got to the chicken it was dead. The chicken was a 14-week-old Plymouth Barred Rock pullet.
